

Not Afraid to Lose

Tremonti

I am not ashamed of the scars that define me
Still, you've got a right to choose
Crawling in my skin and I lie here in envy
I am not afraid to lose

And I will not hold you down, no we
Will touch the sky
And then we will make a pact, these days
Will never die

Will never die

Well, if you were to hide
You know I'd love to find you
And I know if I got it right
I could stand beside you

Oh

If I found the strength, I would cross any ocean
Just to see that light in you
At this moment in my life, I embrace my devotion
I am not afraid to lose

And I will not hold you down, no we
Will touch the sky
And then we will make a pact, these days
Will never die

Will never die

Well, if you were to hide
You know I'd love to find you
And I know if I got it right
I could stand beside you

And I know if I found the love
I could surely find you
And I know that I've found enough
I've found enough

Take all I have
All of me
Before it's over (Before it's over)

Let us begin
Just believe
In one another
Before it's over

Well, if you were to hide
You know I'd love to find you
And I know if I got it right
I could stand beside you

And I know if I found the love
I could surely find you
