

Exhausted

Trevor Daniel

I do not need these old feelings
Holding me down no
Checking the baggage, on my chest
Keeping me from breathing
I do not know what you want
But I know I need you
Swore that I was done done done
But I want to feel you

Late at night, hit my line
I won't hold my tongue
Take a ride, be my vice
Break my heart of chrome
Tell me lies, tell me lies
Help me break my fall
Tryna find peace of mind

I'm exhausted
Oh oh
Been running circles 'round in my head
I know
It's too good to be true
I'm trying to
Let go
Of the past, that's been haunting
My soul

I'm exhausted
Oh oh
Been running circles 'round in my head
I know
You could be different so I'm trying
To let go oh oh oh oh oh
To let go oh oh oh oh oh

I think I might want you to stay
I think I might want you to stay
I know the future is vague
With you everything is okay
And I can see it clear as day
Baby

Four in the morning
You calling
You know that I want it
So I can't deny

Late at night, hit my line
I won't hold my tongue
Take a ride, be my vice

I'm exhausted
Oh oh

Been running circles round in my head
I know
I'm trying to
Let go
Of the past, that's been haunting
My soul

I'm exhausted
Oh oh
I know
You could be different so I'm trying
