

i've been in a tune

Trevor Hall

I've been in a tune
Hoping to find my way
I've been in a tune

I've been in a tune
Hoping to find my way

I've been in a tune
I've been in a tune

A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire

A song within a song is a holy fire
Birds that only drink of rain
Magic contained in so many names it seems I'm insane for my beloved
Below and above it
All of them asking me where I've been Trying to open my heart again
Following sounds on a sacred wind
Learning the ways of surrendering
Hearing the song of a thousand flowers
Where is the time I forgot the hour
This is the food that will never sour
Music the queen, it's a mighty power

A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire
A song within a song, within a song, within a song
Is a holy fire

It's a holy fire
It's a holy fire
It's a holy fire
It's a holy fire
It's a holy fire
