

when we were young

Trevor Hall

It was a young love
Open and undone
Two kids with growing hearts
I still remember
All of those letters
That you burned out in the yard
We were climbing up the old tree
How could we even know the signs?
The music was inside us
Glowing in the dark like fireflies

That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
When we were
When we were young
When we were

The dreamer was in me
Alive and hungry
Drawing the lines between the stars
Chasing the come up
Blue sky above us
Finding out who we really are

That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young

That was, that was back when we were young
That was back when we were young
That was back when we were young
The dreamer was in me
Alive and hungry
That was back then
That was, that was back when we were young
Chasing the come up
Blue sky above us
That was back when we were young
When we were young
