

Right Enough

Trevor Jackson

This may not be right
This may not be right but its right enough
This may not be right
This may not be right but its right enough
It's right for me
And I've just begun yeah
It's right for me
I ain't even done yet
This may not be right
This may not be right but its close enough

Don't ever see me out 'cause nobody deserves my time
And I ain't about to waste it with a bunch of ignorant minds
Just thinking of different ways they can kiss each other's behinds
I'd rather been in the trenches behind the enemy lines
Tearing it down from the inside out
I keep on wearing em down and they gone soon find out
That they can't stop somebody who is handpicked out
JITW means that I'm on the can't lose route
Look, I remember struggling
Mom sleep on the couch wondering
When the money was comin'
I knew it was right in front of me
Yeah I was actin, but that ain't passion, time kept passin'
Had to Luke Kang up and morph into that dragon
Shout out to bitches pushed me to be a better artist
But on the ICU at Atlantic you gave up and stop believing
Swear that shit was the hardest
'Cause regardless what you felt you should know that an artist
Always has to go where his heart is
It's that simple
People that you was close to Float to
A distant island that's remote to your final destination
Normally don't vent but this tapes a special occasion
I'm sorry I kept y'all waiting I was just in my feelings

This may not be right
This may not be right but its right enough
This may not be right
This may not be right but its right enough
It's right for me
And I've just begun yeah
It's right for me
I ain't even done yet
This may not be right
This may not be right but its close enough

It's like, how ya'll gon' tell me how to be me?
That's all I'm sayin'
I dunno, its just confusin' man
All these people they try to use me man
But they forget that I'm a damn hooligan
Who won't be taken for no fool again
And its like
The same moment that you start winnin'
Is the same moment that people say they was with you from the beginnin'

And that's my, you know that's my guy
And its like, what are you talkin' about
I don't even know you
Then I don't want nobody actin different neither
Comin' up like
Aah yeah, Trevor you my favorite
Always knew that you was a star
Knew you'd make it
You're lying
Man I'm...
