

In Remembrance

Tribulation

Det är som mörkast före gryningen
De alla har slutat andas och luften står still
Ur stålet strömma en motståndskraft
Som brutit fasornas sigill
Hey!

Who let it in?
This fiend
They got entwined in the stuff of a dream
Whence came this shadow, spreading its wings
As the dance of death begins

And so he plays
The tune
As frail as the midsummer moon
Among
Bellflowers and devil's bite, initiating the death night

With a song of doom, that black shadow loomed
I remember now
With a song of death, it led their souls to rest
I remember now

They were led by the Devil, a procession in blood
A dance in the absence of God

Unholy force
Released
The power of his spell unleashed
By strange chords of blasphemy
As the serpent moves on through the night

Moving away
From the light
Their skeletons a blistering white
Those wounds will never heal
Leaving its mark, so surreal

With a song of doom, that black shadow loomed
I remember now
With a song of death, it led their souls to rest
I remember now

They were led by the Devil, a procession in blood
A dance in the absence of God
I remember now

This is their requiem
A dance in the absence of God

That black shadow has come for you, with a song of doom
I remember now
The black sleep has its grip on you
With a song of death
I remember now

They were led by the Devil, a procession in blood

A dance in the absence of God

I remember now

This is their requiem

A dance in the absence of god

Hey!