

Everything Has Changed

Trijntje Oosterhuis

Special little girl has changed her life forever welcome to the world we'll cherish every single chapter comes as no surprise the beauty that you see before you look into her eyes and then you know it's true

have you ever known a love like this did you ever think it could exist a new life so innocent and free a new world of possibilities today another life has just begun 'cause of love you've given life to one have you ever felt so free, loved so deep, nothing will be the same chance to live, chance to give, everything has changed

Bedazzled on a dream Tears of joy and people smiling Wonderful to see this little girl so heavenly hold her in your arms tender like an angel sleeping beautiful and warm you want the world to see

hey, look at what love has done she has touched everyone precious and fragile and forever here to stay not in a million years no nothing will be the same

Standing forever much stronger than ever this miracle joy that you bring
