

Grave Eternal - Requiem, Chapter Two: Transition

Triptykon

wave after wave, wave after bleak wave mask the abyss
wave after bleak wave
erodes the shore
step after tiring step
erased by the sand
wave after bleak wave
poised to enwrap
wave after wave
this my barren world
bears no life
this my will
recedes from me this my light devoured by the dark
this my skin dissolves
wavw after wave
dead voices mourn the world still lies the grave eternal a spectral longing fades evanescent
