

Different

Tristram

Laying here pretty, still to my feet
Can you really blame me if I'd rather sleep
If you're so lucky to hear me complain
Hold up my head and I'll swallow my pain

Look at me funny and I'll hear out your jokes
My mamma once told me I'm golden and special
And I know, I know it's true

And though, I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right

Tell me the point of these words you can't hold
When the heat from the friction can't fight off your cold
Your favorite season may be subject to change
But the beat of my heart you will never derange

Look at me funny and I'll hear out your jokes
My mamma once told me I'm golden and special
And I know, I know it's true

And though, I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right

I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right

Let those colors show
Nothing to explain
Remember when you're scared
The fear is half the pain

I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different

It's mine, that's right

I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
I'm a little bit different
You could never really make a dent
Take away my only different
It's mine, that's right
