

Everafters

Tritonal

I used to talk about waking up
Like somehow you'd still be here, only better
The story is ending everafters
We have learned to see each other
To laugh when we could cry
Just cry

I didn't know there was a different kind of life

You are the hardest choice I have to make (you are the one)
Sometimes I wish that I was stronger
Is it or what is it, can I do it?
Will you be here when it's over?
Don't know, but I will try
Just try

I didn't know there was a different kind of life
