

Piercing Quiet

Tritonal

The world is in constant motion
And so are all of us
You love the glow of sunrise
My stars come out at night
Your quiet pierces through me
There's freedom renewed
It takes me to a place where
A solace drops right through
As you cut your ties with burden
The ground gets further away
Now that we are weightless
I just have to say...