

Married Now

Troy Cartwright

I loved your dad
Such a good man
I heard he passed
And I thought damn

I know you're crushed
Wish I could rush
To where you are

I'd pick you up, drive you around this town
Just let you talk and cry and let it out
But you're married now

We could have stayed together
Maybe in another life
Yeah, I'm glad you found each other
And I hope he treats you right
Sometime's I'd like to call you up
But some roads you don't go down
You loved me once but time don't turn around
And you're married now

Is just one glass
Of wine enough
Do you still laugh
When you get buzzed
When you're alone
Do you still sleep
With the TV on?

I guess it ain't my business anyhow
Cause you're married now

And we could have stayed together
Maybe in another life
Yeah, I'm glad you found each other
And I hope he treats you right
Sometime's I'd like to call you up
But some roads you don't go down
You loved me once but time don't turn around
And you're married now

And we almost could've been
But almost just don't count
And sometimes I'd like to call you up
But some roads you don't go down
You loved me once but time don't turn around
And you're married now
