

Technicolor

Troy Cartwright

I couldn't tell you
The shade of Chevrolet my grandpa drove
The walls of my bedroom at ten years old
It all just kinda fades the more time goes
And it goes

And I don't remember
The colors of my hometown rival football team
The tie I wore to prom when I was seventeen
It's kinda crazy how some memories through the years
Just disappear

But, girl, when I see blue, it takes me to a sky
That was turnin' red like that dress you were wearin'
I can paint the scene, your eyes were delta green
Kissin' you, kissin' me, babe
When we had each other, it's still in technicolor

Yeah, I remember
That bar we ducked into 'cause it was rainin'
That neon light that framed you like a paintin'
That cherry in your drink, your lipstick on my cheek
Left a mark on me

Now when I see blue, it takes me to a sky
That was turnin' red like that dress you were wearin'
I can paint the scene, your eyes were delta green
Kissin' you, kissin' me, babe
When we had each other, it's still in technicolor
So in technicolor

I don't know what you see when you think of me
Where your mind goes, but girl, I hope

Whenever you see blue, it takes you to a sky
That was turnin' red like that dress you were wearin'
'Cause I can paint the scene, your eyes were delta green
Kissin' you, kissin' me, babe
When we had each other, it's still in technicolor
So in technicolor
Back when we had each other
It's still in technicolor, mm
