

Repulsion

Truly

Lightning strikes drags me downtown
Where I can find the air
With a switchblade mouth
The damage has arrived and it smells divine
Like a rainy twilight
I will not hide
I will hang my head on the metal light

Lights down
Lights down

Ask the queen why I'm all alone
Overwhelmed but overthrown
Bitter, pretty and appalled
Queen blip city we've rejected it all

My heart shakes in your hand
Drops in the snow moves like a frog
So break it
Now, it's one of those times we cannot
Land or slit the wrist of the worried hand
I want to try, what gets me off
Is what makes me right

Lights down
Lights down

Ask the queen why I'm all alone
Overwhelmed but not overthrown
Bitter, pretty and appalled
Queen blip city we've rejected it all
