

A Hero Forms

Tryhardninja

Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones
To the past owes a penance
People's hope is his vengeance
When the sun fades from the sky
Through the black shines a beacon
Right at home among demons
Justice fails what's wrong or right
Isn't always black and white

Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones
Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones

Let the world be unfrozen
Let it grow without poison
May he keep us from demise
The hero with no anthem
Out of fear born a phantom
When the dark conquers the light
From the wreckage he will rise

Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones
Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones

When the night falls
There's a second face that shows
Streets are now feed for the crows
When the night falls
There are devils in his soul
That drive him to save us all

The days grow darker bringin' longer nights and I'm the number one target of the Arkham knight
I've seen a lot of crime cost a lot of Gotham lives start the car up Al time to take another ride
I've become a darker knight not the kind father would want
The mask I put on is only getting harder to don the eyes of a hawk I'm watch in' like a bird in the sky
And if you mention Bruce Wayne
I've never heard of the guy

Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne

Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones
Out of dark a hero forms
City's knight that serves no throne
Saves a life for every ghost
That still haunts him in his bones

Oh the savior cloaked in the shadow
He's gone
He's gone
The road deserted twisted and narrow
Drive on
Drive on
