

Another Door

Tryhardninja

Run, run, there's a figure in the shadows
Right there in the corner, looking down up from the gallows
Monster's got hungry eyes
And it looks like you, it looks like you tonight
Rush, rush, or you might just have to face it
The screeching in your mind watching every step you pacing
Nothing to leave behind
When the monster is inside

But you want more, and all you need hides behind another door
Where nothing is the same 'cause you're so sure
Your nightmares will not follow the key that fits will set things right
Hopeless delusion leads you blind through another door

Run, run, but the glitch is on the inside
No guiding light out here 'till you seek the darkness you hide
Down deep in your own mind
While your body moves, your dreams all start to die
What choice do you have but live?
What else do you have to give?
Stop running from yourself
Or open up another door

But you want more, and all you need hides behind another door
Where nothing is the same 'cause you're so sure
Your nightmares will not follow the key that fits will set things right
Hopeless delusion leads you blind through another door

You ignore me, so I'm eating away
Always there to lay you down
The part of you, you can never escape
And I'll take everything if you allow
You ignore me, so I'm eating away
You ignore me, so I'm eating away
You ignore me, so I'm eating away

But you want more, and all you need hides behind another door
Where nothing is the same 'cause you're so sure
Your nightmares will not follow the key that fits will set things right
Hopeless delusion leads you blind through another door

Oh oh oh, oh oh oh, oh oh oh, another door
Oh oh oh, oh oh oh, another door
Oh oh oh, oh oh oh, oh oh oh, another door
Oh oh oh, oh oh oh, another door
