

Blasting Off

Tryhardninja

This metal hull, it carries me
Cold lonely lifeline as we float across a cosmic sea
The stars align, flashing their rays
I barrel towards its timelessness
To capture a moment as infinity takes all my breath

Drifting across worlds of endless stories
Raging to be told
Star struck
Watching chemicals

I'm a rocket man
I don't know when
Or if I'm coming home
Eyes to the skies
Next stop: the universe
Blasting off

A breach through unknown atmosphere
Vibrant and holy, a new heaven for this rocketeer
Gravity touches my heart
The planet surface calling out
I'll run through the ocean before disappearing through the clouds

Drifting across worlds of endless stories
Raging to be told
Star struck
Watching chemicals

I'm a rocket man
I don't know when
Or if I'm coming home
Eyes to the skies
Next stop: the universe
Blasting off

Blasting off
Blasting, blasting, blasting off
Blasting off
Blasting, blasting, blasting off

Outlast the perils that I face
Exist propelled through hyperspace
A galaxy light years away
Feels like home, feels like home, feels like

I'm a rocket man
I don't know when
Or if I'm coming home
Eyes to the skies
Next stop: the universe
Blasting off

Blasting off
Blasting off
Blasting, blasting, blasting off
