

Everything Changes

Tryhardninja

Tell mom I'm coming home I tried and I'm over it
Going back to find my old life hidden somewhere beneath the dirt
My friends all growing old so fast that it makes me sick
Tired looking hopeful people in a friendly jobless suburb

This place used to be something now let it die
Want nothing better to do than waste our time

Everywhere everything changes (changes)
My town looks old and strange
Everywhere everything changes (changes)
We got the world to blame

And we're singin' like
Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
Don't care tonight tonight tonight

Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
We'll be alright alright alright

We break laws just for fun, so bored it's criminal
Doing nothing i'm too busy to make any life decisions
This town is full of ghosts real or metaphorical
Don't know what I'm looking for but I know I am on a mission

This place used to be something now let it die
Want nothing better to do than waste our time

Everywhere everything changes (changes)
My town looks old and strange
Everywhere everything changes (changes)
We got the world to blame

And we're singin' like
Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
Don't care tonight tonight tonight

Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
We'll be alright alright alright

I just wanna die anywhere else but here
Take the broken ship turn it all around and steer
Hop aboard a train in my head and ride away away away away
Wake up kick some leaves go to bed and repeat
I don't know if it's better if you came with me
Hop aboard a train in my head and ride away away away away

Everywhere everything changes (changes)
My town looks old and strange
Everywhere everything changes (changes)
We got the world to blame

And we're singin' like

Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
Don't care tonight tonight tonight

Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
Everything changes
We'll be alright alright alright
