

Air, land, and sea, that was enough for me
But recently, something has changed, swear as I live and breath
It's like the tippy top of the atmosphere is calling me
So I accept the duty to look after distant colonies
Pick out the nearest star, it can't be far, NASCAR, I'm off to chase it
Step on the gas and don't look back until my home has faded
Zero weighted because gravity is overrated
Dedicated space invaders, warfare elevated
Still in top form even if we changed the scene
We never miss a beat, these space marines we'll make 'em bleed
Collect more headshots than the models do at Maybelline
Cause every harasser has to answer to my submachine
Boom, another one, boom, another one
Like interstellar DJ memes out on a murder run
It's tough, but no one said this enterprise it can't be fun
I'm very sorry Captain Kirk, these phasers weren't meant to stun

Answer the call of war amongst the satellites
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh
A trillion lights ignite, witness mankind's divide
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh

Not so long ago, not so far away
In a solar system we all wanna dominate
Technologically we made an awful lot of gains
Even in outer space we found a way to populate
This ain't failure to launch, tell Matt McConaughey
We're going Interstellar, wanna see a star today?
So just relax man and take the weight off
Hop in my spaceship and buckle up for take off
Dropin' knowledge like I'm Neil Degrasse Tyson
You don't need gravity to feel the wrath of titans
Air lock your doors unless you don't breathe
Cause it'll hurt a lot more when no one can hear you scream
This is not Star Wars, every Jedi can leave
We only got one force and it's measured in G's
The final frontier where we all carry blasters
You can call it Modern Warfare Remastered

Answer the call of war amongst the satellites
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh
A trillion lights ignite, witness mankind's divide
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh

Go into the unknown
Systems overload
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh
Train to fortify
Warp and mobilize
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh

Arial brute force, dominancy
We outgrew Earth, broke boundaries
No Groot, but literally
We're Guardians of the Galaxy
Vows to serve took us way uphill
Brave the storm, cause no one else will

They violate, we retaliate
With their lives they'll pay for all the blood spilled

Battle is evolving
So we rise above it
Limitless (limitless)
No place too far
Look up at the night sky
We will be the golden
Shooting stars, shooting stars

Answer the call of war amongst the satellites
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh
A trillion lights ignite, witness mankind's divide
We're infinite, we're infinite, oh
