

Time To Say Goodbye

Tryhardninja

A puppet on a string, I know you know the feeling
Like you're trapped in someone else's paradise, yeah
A bitter sweet fantasy 'cause nothing here that you are seeing Quite belongs and it's all wrong, but Welcome Home, so stay a while

And swallow your doubt
It's all in your mind
It'll all be OK
Just don't believe your eyes

Wide awake while you are dreaming, the dream that stole your life
Those aren't shadows that you're seeing, they're memories left to die
Behind the curtain, don't go peaking, and trust that everything's alright
You're home, you're safe, and now it's time to say goodbye

Suspicion eats a way I know you want to leave here
But think about your friends, their hearts would break the worst, oh
It's home, home, sweet home, trust me, why wouldn't you want to be here?
Don't get too far, it's who you are now, nevermind how much it hurts, it hurts

And swallow your doubt
It's all in your mind
It'll all be OK
Just look at my eyes

Wide awake while you are dreaming, the dream that stole your life
Those aren't shadows that you're seeing, they're memories left to die
Behind the curtain, don't go peaking, and trust that everything's alright
You're home, you're safe, and now it's time to say goodbye

Goodbye
Ahhh
Goodbye
Ahhh
Goodbye to you
Now forget the world comfortably numb and blind
Stay home, feel the love, and leave the rest behind
Get lost in my voice and look into my eyes

Wide awake while you are dreaming, the dream that stole your life
Those aren't shadows that you're seeing, they're memories left to die
Behind the curtain, don't go peaking, and trust that everything
's alright
You're home, you're safe, and now it's time to say goodbye
