

Lost In The Crowd

TSS

I've been gone for the past few years
Locked in my head
Trapped in this dream
Trying to fill the emptiness
Can't move on from these city streets
Waiting for something to make me believe
That I'm more than what they said

Now I need to sit down and talk of the last time
Where have you been when I was lost in the crowd?
Sit down and talk of the last time
Where have you been when I was lost in the night?

I think I'm driftin'
I think I'm driftin' away
Trapped in a daze for days on end
But still I can't escape
You seem so distant
I feel you slipping away
Lost in a haze
Cannot seem to find my way back to yesterday
Who we ever were and who we are
Is there anymore it's so bizarre
While I'm introspective
It's all relative
I change perspective
And it's all subjective
Take my mind off of all this
Wake me up from this abyss
Open my eyes and let me see

I've been gone for the past few years
Locked in my head
Trapped in this dream
Trying to fill the emptiness
Can't move on from these city streets
Waiting for someone to prove me
That I'm not just a lost cause

Why don't we sit down and talk of the last time?
Where have you been when I was lost in the crowd?
Sit down and talk of the last time
Where have you been when I was lost in the night?

My hopes and dreams are like vapor
My hopes and dreams are like vapor
My hopes and dreams are like vapor
My hopes and dreams are like vapor

Sit down and talk of the last time
Where have you been when I was lost in the crowd?

Why don't we sit down and talk of the last time?
Where have you been when I was lost in the crowd?
Sit down and talk of the last time
Where have you been when I was lost in the night?
