

Wrong Kind of Message

Tub Ring

If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me
If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me

Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes
Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes

Illustrations hide a different view
Of what this club will come to be
You've soured all of this for me

Count on your pipe dreams hitting a wall
Then when you're leaving count on believing
All of your hype, then hold all my calls
The corporation, reeducation

Now you're one step away
Now and that's too close to take

If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me
If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me

Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes
Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes

Machinations we're behind the truth
You've worked out such a tight routine
Your actions power the machine

Count on your pipe dreams hitting a wall
Then when you're leaving count on believing
All of your hype, then hold all my calls
The corporation, reeducation

Now you're one step away
Now and that's too close to take

The words are never useless
When times have changed among us
The sun is shining on a brand new day

The words are never useless
When times have changed among us
The sun is shining on a brand new day

If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me
If you don't want the wrong kind of message
Don't send the same kind to me

Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes
Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes

Your instinct to survive
Won't work when you just close your eyes
