

Killin' Me

Tucker Beathard

Your love is my addiction
Your kiss is like a high
I dance with all your demons
And be the one that holds you tight

I tried to be the pieces
That your heart was tryin' to find
Got scared to death of leavin'
Kept givin' more of mine

I swear to God I tried to be your hero
I couldn't seem to stay all that you need but
I ain't strong enough, no I ain't strong enough

So go on and say what you always say
This time of mine is already made
Love baby is sittin' on gone
Spell it to your friends however you want

I hate goodbye, and it hurts to leave
And it breaks my heart that you still don't see
How lovin' you is killin' me...

The mirror tells the story
In ways we just can't hide
And you can see, the hurt around these eyes...

So go on and say what you always say
This time of mine is already made
And love baby is sittin' on gone
Spell it to your friends however you want

I hate goodbye, and it hurts to leave
And it breaks my heart that you still don't see
How lovin' you is killin' me

I swear to God I tried to be your hero
I couldn't stay the guy I know that you need but
I ain't strong enough, no I ain't strong enough...

Go on and say what you always say
This time of mine is already made
And love baby is sittin' on gone
Spell it to your friends however you want

I hate goodbye, and it hurts to leave
Damn breaks my heart that you still don't see
How lovin' you is killin' me...

Your love is my addiction
Your kiss is like a high
I dance with all your demons
And be the one that holds you tight...
