

You Would Think

Tucker Beathard

You would think this time of year when the leaves begin to fall
That you would think of fires and flannel shirts and I'd be worth a call

You would think this cold would stir up some old memory
You would think that you would think of me

You would think all this time woulda done what it does best
You would think I wouldn't think about what's going through your head

You would think these thoughts would go both ways eventually
You would think that you would think of me

You would think some song, you would think some place
You would think some look on a strangers face
Would ring a bell or hurt like hell or make you feel something is missing
And if you wonder what it might be
You would think you'd think of me
You would think you'd think of me

You would think you'd wanna know if I'm alive and well
You would think a little catching up wouldn't be that big a-deal
If only for my forgiveness to finally set you free
You would think that you would think of me

You would think some song, you would think some place
You would think some look on a strangers face
Would ring a bell or hurt like hell or make you feel something is missing
And if you wonder what it might be
You would think you'd think of me
You would think you'd think of me

When you think of regrets, when you think of mistakes
When you're tryna fall asleep
You would think that you would think of me

You would think some song, you would think some place
You would think some look on a strangers face
Would ring a bell or hurt like hell or make you feel something is missing
And if you wonder what it might be
You would think you'd think of me
Yeah, if you wonder what it might be
You would think you'd think of me
You would think you'd think of me
