Give me time

Sometime

(Give me time!)

We will look back on this time

Sometime

(Give me time!)

Gotta go easy on yourself sometimes

We will look back on this time

(Give me time!)

Hear me out, hear me out, hear me out

When they say our world is destroyed

Sometimes I nod and say, I know

Other times I breathe in, breathe out, shake my head no no no '

cause

Easter eggs reveal themselves from beneath the melted snow

Birth and rebirth at once, hidden below

Oh

Sometime

(Give me time!)

We will look back on this time

Sometime

(Give me time!)

Gotta go easy on yourself, take care of yourself

'Cause we will look back on this time

So take care of yourself

Time will tell it all in a picture book you read to someone else's kids

So soothing the pages turn, the concrete, the known

Thank goodness we know better now

Thank goodness truth prevailed

In the meantime, pull the blanket up and dream behind the veil

(In the meantime, pull the blanket up and dream how seeds are sown)

In the meantime, forgive yourself, so you can swim freely home

Forgive yourself, forgive yourself, so you can swim freely now

Or else your dense, bold body will sink all the way down.)
