

Ruby Ann

Turnpike Troubadours

I wanna know your loving, I wanna know it true
Sundowns and sunrises, waking up with you
I've been hopeless under melancholy skies
My savior was a mountain girl with lightning in her eyes

Ruby Ann, ain't you a daisy in the sunlight of the spring?
Ruby Ann, you are a beckoning that keeps on calling me
Ruby Ann, to you, I promise, promise you my life
I'll love you 'til the morning if you hold me through the night

I can feel the wind blow, blowing from the south
Blowing like the promises that fall out of my mouth
I tell you something, don't you call my bluff
I'd burn this whole town down just to prove I was enough

Ruby Ann, ain't you a daisy in the sunrise of the spring?
Ruby Ann, you are a beckoning that keeps on calling me
Ruby Ann, to you, I promise, promise you my life
I'll love you 'til the morning if you hold me through the night

In the early morning, 'fore the rooster crows
I kiss you on the forehead and ride away and go
I know you, darling, you're a Colorado high
Feeling back at home when I look into your eyes

Ruby Ann, ain't you a daisy in the sunrise of the spring?
Ruby Ann, you are a beckoning that keeps on calling me
Ruby Ann, to you, I promise, promise you my life
I'll love you 'til the morning if you hold me through the night
Ruby Ann, to you, I promise, promise you my life
I'll love you 'til the morning if you hold me through the night