

Everything You Want

Tuxedomoon

And everything you want
Is not the way you want it
And everything you see
Is not the way you saw
And everything you think
Is not the way you thought
And everything you want
Is not the way you wish it was
On any street corner
It might hit you again
On any street corner
It might just be the same
On any street corner
It might hit you again
On any street corner
It might just be the same
And everything you want
Is not the way you want it
And everything you saw
Is not the way you see
And everything you thought
Is not the way you think
And everything you want
Is not the way you wish it was
On any street corner
It might hit you again
On any street corner
It might slap you around
On any street corner
On any street corner
It might just be the same
On any street corner