Hey, you know what I mean?
Let me know, let me know
Let me know, come on

Oh why? The Sun is falling into the abyss
The light is all just an illusion as the darkness came

I can't believe you let me down
The fallen tears signify
Baby, please don't make me sad
The betrayal in the future

The "love" that still lingers around us
And it cannot be wipe off too
Even if it's stupid, I want to ask you this
Is it really okay like this?

You're unforgivable, but I want to believe in you
I want to forgive you, so be together with me one more time
You've done it, guilty
You're guilty
Though it's against the rules
Let's start all over again
If that is your wish

Yo, looking back in the days which became like a maze
Are there expiry to the lies made in the younger days? Hey
The people who still live
Will bear the seven sins right
To distinguish between right or wrong (Black white)
But that's the gray area, you and I (You and I)
So, who's that someone that can
Judge the others in such a world?

It's easier to just choose to be a hater
There are also ways to turn your back on it
Standing before the path to escape, I would like to ask myself
Is it really okay like this?

You're unforgivable, but I want to believe in you
I want to forgive you, so be together with me one more time
You've done it, guilty
You're guilty
Though it's against the rules
Let's start all over again
If that is your wish
