oooooooooooooooo oooo
1oooooooooooo oo1oooooooooooo oooooooooooooooooooo oooo my road

I stopped and looked up at the clear blue sky
As hope is burning in my eyes, I walk again

In the confusing maze of everyday life, something is left behind
I was looking for a chance
To be reflected in the eyes of my loved one
So I can feel proud, once again

You've given me so much kindness that I can step forward now
I swear I'll never get lost again.
I am just a second away from taking a step into the world
I'm sure my footprints as they extend will light up my road

As I am listening carefully, I heard it, your distant laughter
In an elusive world, I still want to dream

I left a lot of excuses like a coward
About thinking only about myself
How many times I have cut off the happy moments, already
But it is just a little, it's alright

If the days that I paint with you in my heart remain
Then I believe that there will be no mistake
Just a second ago we stepped into our future and now we are walking together
The repeated footsteps will guide my life

In the confusing maze of everyday life, something is left behind
I was looking for a chance
To be reflected in the eyes of my loved one
So I can feel proud, once again

You've given me so much kindness that I can step forward now
I swear I'll never get lost again
I am just a second away from taking a step into the world
I'm sure my footprints as they extend will light up my road
