I was always thinking about you
While walking along this road
Some has changed and some has not
The meaning or definition of happiness
May vary from person to person
But at least I have the place I can call home here

Time flows and never stops
But how to live tomorrow
I will choose it as my heart tells me
I want to send you as much "thank you"
As possible in any way I can now
That's the reason I'm here

I cried because you were crying
But it's not from sadness
I'm so happy to see you are here
That tears well up in my eyes

The promise we made
Looking up the clear sky
I think back on it whenever I feel a little down
The sky of today is just like
The sky of that day is just the same
Certainly, it has not changed

I sing because you are watching
It's not for anything else

Just the fact you are there
Makes joy well up in my heart

I couldn't forget you, there's no way I can forget you
The smile in front of me is so precious to me
I've been wanting to see you, it's great to finally see you again
Please stay with me for the rest of our life

I cried because you were crying
But it's not from sadness
I'm so happy to see you are here
That tears well up in my eyes

I sing because you are watching
It's not for anything else
Just the fact you are there
Makes joy well up in my heart
