Wrong number wrong number
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number

I'm sorry. You've got the. You've got the
I'm sorry. You've got the
So don't call me no more

You call me at least twelve times a day to check
If by chance, I'm on the line with somebody
You leave a suspicious message

Who would I be talking with at this time?
It gets so hard for me, when you make up a girl
Who doesn't even exist, yeah

You trap me in the words of love
The annoying scoldings pile up, turning into attachment
I want to forget you, I'll make sure you don't appear
On my phone again, I said

You've got the wrong number
You've got the wrong number
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number
So don't call me no more

As if you're my mother, you know my whole day
You're always worried about who I am with
As if it's for me

You try to make an excuse by saying you were curious
But the extreme restrictions just make love more painful
What would be the good of hanging onto a hung up call?
The words I hear are clear, what to say

You've got the wrong number
You've got the wrong number
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number
So don't call me no more

You got the wrong number
You got the wrong number
(I can't go back to you)
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number
So don't call me no more

I'll erase it all, I'll change it all
The password which reminds me
Of the times of you and me
I'll erase your ringtone which rang every time
My name appeared on your phone, reset, reset

Wow, I think I'll go crazy, I'd appreciate it if you shut up
I'm like a stupid fish in your net
Can't it be enough like this? Cash
Your words of love scrape my skin, it becomes dim
My head starts to hurt again
I'm starting to hear auditory hallucinations

As if you're interested
As if it's for me
I'm just your item
You don't have to be nervous
By the word no, just let me go
Say, help me so I can escape, say
We're already too far
To start again

You've got the wrong number
You've got the wrong number
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number
So don't call me no more
(I want to escape from you now)

You've got the wrong number
(Don't call me again)
You've got the wrong number
(Don't love onto a person that left)
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number
So don't call me no more
(Please just let me go, just let me go)

Wrong number, wrong number
I'm sorry. You've got the wrong number

I'm sorry. You've got the. You've got the
I'm sorry. You've got the
So don't call me no more
