

I lost my rank and title
I turned my back on it
Sold it all at a discount (Yeah, yeah)
I wanted to progress things
I wanted my soul set free
Lost it all at a discount (Yeah, yeah)

You and I both know that's how the story goes
We've seen it several times (Yeah, yeah)
It's kinda hard to know, is there's a point at all?
Or should we cut the line?

You want a tally, I lost the count
You want to love me, I'll let you down
Still now, you believe in me somehow
When I replay it in my mind
I see your heartbreak every time
Still now, you believe in me somehow

You believe in me somehow
You believe in me somehow

I liken our fight to two lightning strikes strike on cue
Like right when a storm hits, sights set (Yeah, yeah)
Right set, circumstantial proof
You should go your way, I should try mine
Even though we both know
We should just cut the line (Yeah, yeah)

You want a tally, I lost the count
You want to love me, I'll let you down
Still now, you believe in me somehow
When I replay it in my mind
I see your heartbreak every time
Still now, you believe in me somehow

Somehow, somehow (Ooh, ooh)
You believe in me somehow
Ooh

Ooh, somehow I figured you were keeping track of every time
Just figured you were keeping track of every time
I let you down, I breached your trust, I let you down
Just figured you were keeping track of every time
You were keeping track

You want a tally, I lost the count (You want a tally)
You want to love me (You want to love me), I'll let you down
Still now (Still me), you believe in me somehow (You believe in me somehow)
When I replay it in my mind (When I replay it)
I see your heartbreak every time (I see your heartbreak)
Still now (Still now), you believe in me somehow

Yeah, yeah
