

I See You Standing

Twila Paris

Every day I hear it - evil is abroad
Making even children enemies of God
Yet somehow I always find, above the crowd
Other voices pleading, crying truth aloud
And I don't know your name
But I think I see your face

I see you standing in the fire
Standing on the Word
Remembering the call
I see you standing, standing
I see you standing tall

In the dire struggle you have held your ground
Wisdom and the passion form a mighty sound
Thunder in the distance - you are not alone
Winds of courage rushing from the righteous throne
And I don't know your name
But I can see your face

And I see you standing in the fire
Standing on the Word
Remembering the call
I see you standing, standing
I see you standing

You're bringing hope inside my heart and motion to my feet
I know my friend that someday we will meet
And I don't know your name
I don't know your name
But I can see your face

I see you standing in the fire
Standing on the Word
Remembering the call
I see you standing in the fire
Standing on the Word
Remembering, remembering the call
Standing, standing
I see you standing, standing
I see you standing tall
