

Small Sacrifice

Twila Paris

He worked His magic on me
My sisters and brothers
I was unable to see like so many others
You came and told me the truth
I owe my freedom to You
What can I give in return
That is not destined to burn

It's one small sacrifice
I give You all my love
I give You all my life
A token for a prize
It never could be worth
The honor You deserved
It's one small sacrifice

You came here ready to die
With kindest intention
History's great sacrifice
The price of redemption
Innocence covered in sin
I am created again
What can I give in return
When there is nothing to learn

It's one small sacrifice
I give You all my love
I give You all my life
A token for a prize
It never could be worth
The honor You deserved
It's one small sacrifice

What can You do with this gift of mine
So insignificant, so unrefined
What can You do with a simple girl
You can change the world
You can change the world

With one small sacrifice
I give You all my love
I give You all my life
A token for a prize
That never could be worth
The honor You deserved

It's one small sacrifice
I give You all my love
I give You all my life
A token for a prize
It never could be worth
