

Skyknights of Aldaria

Twilight Force

In a time of eternal night
No one knew what could be done
Is there a way to bring back the light?
Knightriders of the sky
Will you fly and heed the call?
There's a darkness summoned by a mage

We will fly, we will come to your aid
Help rid the dark mage
We will fight the battle of twilight
We will fly for a new dawn

Light returning to the sky
The night of a thousand days has passed
As the shadows fade away
The heart of the world will shine
For now

From above, eagles came striking down
Down from the night sky
For the glory of Aldaria
You will feel the might of our steel
By the light, we will destroy you
And the mage fell to the ground

Is he dead?
Is he gone?
Did he perish?
I don't know

As the spell broke, light returned to Aldaria
When the dark mage fell, the people smiled and danced the night away

You fools, my arcane powers conquers death
I have risen once more, stronger and mightier than ever before
Now face your ruin, as I bring night eternal

So as light and hope were fading
We must take to arms again
Now we stand alone but we will fight
But there, out in the distant skies, we saw them again
Riding on eagles of freedom
Coming back to save us all (The eagles are coming)

Light returning to the sky
The night of a thousand days has passed
As the shadows fade away
The might of the skyknights saved us all
