

Overthinking

Twin Atlantic

Spent my whole life
Living in sandstone and looking at blankets
Of clouding beating down.
The ground is my mirror and I'm never this crown.
I poisoned the park,
Built walls around the river. A bridge to the power,
To pump it all out
They stab in the front here when a violent silent anchor drowns.
To pump it all out
They stab in the front here when a violent silent anchor drowns.

My big deal, my big mouth,
I move in, you blackout
I'm too scared, you're so proud
Get one more easy round
We step up and you freak out
My silence has paid out
Stop shaking, stop shaking
I'm right here overthinking.

Decent but dead
Over the top, naked torso a sunbathed
Terraced row house
Put my petals in the water. We all can smell like roses now
Oil rainbow,
On the surface its beauty confuses it's lethal.
Like an engine for drugs
The fuel is my words but the building keeps on burning down.

My big deal, my big mouth,
I move in, you blackout
I'm too scared, you're so proud
Get one more easy round
We step up and you freak out
My silence has paid out
Stop shaking, stop shaking
I'm right here overthinking.

I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done
I'm never done, I'll never be done

Over thinking over
Over thinking over

My big deal, my big mouth,
I move in, you blackout
I'm too scared, you're so proud
Get one more easy round
We step up and you freak out
My silence has paid out
Stop shaking, stop shaking

I'm right here overthinking.
