

Awkward Backward

Twin Shadow

Maybe I'm lost in a forest
Maybe I'm lost on this LSD
Now you are the color of courage
The one that I call in emergency
I can't tell awkward from backwards
I could make mountains from jealousy
Holding us up, sunlight
Making you leave

Maybe this time
My heart's too hard to find
I got home from the races
There was nothing left in sight
Maybe you're right, huh
Your heart's too good for mine
And I should really leave instead of trying to fit inside
Maybe it's time
Who loves you now?
Who loves you now?
Who's locking you down?
And who's loving you now?

What if I don't know your story?
Maybe you left out the gory parts
I know how to draw out your sadness
You know how to drive me to madness
Harmonies fall when you call out my name
Light up the night as you pull down the rain
I'll be the one to collect all the pain

Maybe this time
My heart's too hard to find
I got home from the races
There was nothing left in sight
Maybe you're right, huh
Your heart's too good for mine
And I should really leave instead of trying to fit inside
Maybe it's time
Who loves you now?
Who loves you now?
Who's locking you down?
And who's loving you now?
Who loves you now?
Who loves you now?
Who's locking you down?
And who's loving you now?

Even with my heart back
Even if my heart backs down
You don't wanna talk like that to me now
Even with my heart stacked
Even when I'm passing out
You don't wanna fall asleep with me now
Even with my heart back
Even if my heart backs down
You don't wanna talk like that to me now
Even with my heart stacked

Even when I'm passing out
You don't wanna fall asleep with me now
