

Fallin In

Twiztid

Struggles all the time, and if I lose my mind again
It's over for everyone
Make me decide, sometimes I'd rather die instead
But it just feels like

Falling in love with someone who hates you
Something no one should ever have to relate to
Sometimes I give in, fall victim to my doubt
I know you'll never really know what I'm all about

Never knew that I was capable
That I would not, could not escape the unscapable
It was rumored that my soul was unsavable
The focus was on death, so all hope was fatal
The rest died, I'm all that's left alive
In the world where they above career suicide
Where not even the Devil can survive
And they tell us what to say but then force us to pick a side
Us verse them
No love, no hate, no question
Do you relay the message?
Are you making up shit just to keep the drama going?
Keep it going, keep it going
Keep it going, keep it us verse them
No love, no hate, no question
Do you relate?

Falling in love with someone who hates you
Something no one should ever have to relate to
Sometimes I give in, fall victim to my doubt
I know you'll never really know what I'm all about

Struggles all the time, and if I lose my mind again
It's over for everyone
Make me decide, sometimes I'd rather die instead
But it just feels like

Falling in love with someone who hates you
Something no one should ever have to relate to
Sometimes I give in, fall victim to my doubt
I know you'll never really know what I'm all about
Falling in love with someone who hates you
Something no one should ever have to relate to
Sometimes I give in, fall victim to my doubt
I know you'll never really know what I'm all about