

Merciful Fate

Twiztid

Breathe another breath, hold it in, no regret
Lookin' at the world like a mess
How can I confess? Back was the cross like I'm blessed
Never let my soul be possessed
Why you so obsessed? Everything, every move
Tell me what the hell I got to prove
Face in the water, baptized from the hate so I'm straight
Mask on, and it wants me to groove
Watch me levitate, way above, wings spread
Looking from above like a hawk
You can try to hate, but it really won't last long
Majority rules, so take a walk
Thoughts in my head saying let the dark hell just fall
Puddles of blood at my feet
Go ahead and preach, thinking that my life's been scarred
But I'm happier here underneath, blessed

Erasing my face and replace with a mask
DL cross cover my face
Remember first time, and I knew it wouldn't be my last
This is my unmerciful fate
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)

There's a voice that invades in my mind
Whispering delusions in a low tone, back the behind
Storm clouds, black rain, lightning will define
The shadows and silhouettes in day of light decline
Resurface for purpose
Water like midnight, pray for resurgence
I can not block it out too long
Petals in the water, and I be singing me a new song
Whispering often
Telling me my life is like living in a coffin
I ain't quit the pack, I ain't with the rights often
I ain't wiling out with no fucks and no caution
Cauterize the wounds as I deal with the losses
Cross on my face like Christ, live my own life
You can keep your advice, troublesome like a poltergeist
But real life always costs more than the sticker price

Erasing my face and replace with a mask
DL cross cover my face
Remember first time, and I knew it wouldn't be my last
This is my unmerciful fate
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)

Back roads on light poles, eyes on prey
Black rain beats down high from the cemetery
Never could they bury, Lotus goes anywhere
The sun light or water, 'cause he harvesting despair
Replenish and repair, reawaken the loss

Rebirth up on earth by the Lotus cross
Bring it back to the swarm, can't survive without the hive
No one is safe when the flies of Hell have arrived
Nomadic and the spell said your soul wants to hide
They're calling on gods, 'cause the books have arrived
And the burning flames will never subside
Your ending is nigh
Everything gotten is earned, well-deserved
Power of the Lotus a gift and a cursed
Disempowered by the witch trapped inside this song
Keep it with the Lotus, redrum, song along

Erasing my face and replace with a mask
DL cross cover my face
Remember first time, and I knew it wouldn't be my last
This is my unmerciful fate
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain

Put it in the dark and it'll grow, what they told me
Family is all we really know, what they showed me
Feeling like it's new, but I promise you it's the old me
Minus all the stress and the controlling
All we hear is "Murder, murder murder" when the crows sing
Petals in the water floating off to do their own thing
When we come together, there's nothing better
A cross with them nine letters
Forget us, remember when I entered it, it's the old me
Right in the center's a flower that keeps growing
Only when the full moon's showing
For anybody here not knowing
The motherfucking Lotus is molting

Erasing my face and replace with a mask
DL cross cover my face
Remember first time, and I knew it wouldn't be my last
This is my unmerciful fate
Always I'm forgettin' whether the victim or villain
Is your monster outside or hidden? (This is my unmerciful fate)
