

Generous Dimensions

TWRP

Girl, you have been hurt before
I see it in your eyes
They said you don't measure up
But I know that it's just lies
And I know you've got all the right stuff
All the way from your head down to your thighs
You deserve to be loved just how you are
Just be yourself, baby, because you are a star
Right now, your beautiful proportions
Have got my blood coursing
Oh yeah, yeah, yeah

You got those generous dimensions
And I think that we should have some fun
And while you're here, I'd like to mention
That I'd like to be your only one
Now that we have a deep connection
I'd like to give you all my love
Yeah, you, my love, to you

Babe, your beauty's deeper than skin
I see the kindness in your smile
You have so much to offer
I could go on for a while
The world needs more lovers like you
Ooh, now listen up as I confess
I've been there and I know it's tough
When you're feeling down, like you ain't good enough
Now you can't believe that mess
You are generously blessed
To this, I do attest
Ooh

You got those generous dimensions
And I think that we should have some fun
And while you're here, I'd like to mention
That I'd like to be your only one
Now that we have a deep connection
I'd like to give you all my love
Yeah, you, my love, to you

You got those generous dimensions
And I know that we have just begun
(We've just begun)
You hold the key to my affection
Want you to know you're the only one
(The only one)
You got me standin' at attention
If you want, I'll give you all my love
And more, to you, ooh, you
