

6 Shots Left

TX2

This is a lonely place to die
I've accepted our demise
I'm no stranger
To life as a wager

We've been working on borrowed time
This might be our final ride
We deserve this
To die with a purpose

I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left and I've got no plans to run
I'm dead by the break of dawn
At least I knew which side I'm on
I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left, yeah, we're killing just for fun
Good men, yeah, they don't last long
At least I knew which side I'm on

Against the odds, we have survived
Underneath an amber sky
Past the hillside
There's one final sunrise

A nameless horse and death to pay
I've been hoping for some rain
In the desert
But I should know better

I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left and I've got no plans to run
I'm dead by the break of dawn
At least I knew which side I'm on
I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left, yeah, we're killing just for fun
Good men, yeah, they don't last long
At least I knew which side I'm on

As the vultures seal my fate
The sheriff's best men do the same
Their bullets stain like Picasso paints
A portrait of a dead man without a name
Are you ready, Cam? Yeah
Are you ready, Matt? Yeah
Well, let's fucking end this shit the same way we started

I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left and I've got no plans to run
I'm dead by the break of dawn
At least I knew which side I'm on
I've got six shots left in this loaded gun
I've got six shots left, yeah, we're killing just for fun
Good men, yeah, they don't last long
At least I knew which side I'm on
