

Tin Roof Talks

Ty Myers

On the couch watching TV
When the weatherman came on my screen
He said looks like rain today
So I picked up the phone and I called your place
Before a word came out of my mouth
She said I'm getting ready I'll be over in an hour

She knows what happens when the tin roof talks
While an old love song
Plays on the radio
As I watch you dance around
With your hair hanging down
Singing words to a song she didn't know before tonight
And all the lights are turned way down low
And I love the way my shirt looks on you
But it won't be on for long
Cause that's what happens when the tin roof talks

Don't know bout you but when the clouds move in
And make their way down to Austin
Can't help but get that kinda feeling again
Cause the rain and your dress start falling
And even on a sunny day
I find myself praying for rain

I love what happens when the tin roof talks
While an old love song
Plays on the radio
As I watch you dance around
With your hair hanging down
Singing words to a song she didn't know before tonight
And all the lights are turned way down low
And I love the way my shirt looks on you
But it won't be on for long
Cause that's what happens when the tin roof talks

That's what happens when the tin roof talks

Yeah that's what happens when the tin roof talks
While an old love song
Plays on the radio
As I watch you dance around
With your hair hanging down
Singing words to a song she didn't know before tonight

And all the lights are turned way down low
And I love the way my shirt looks on you
But it won't be on for long
Cause that's what happens when the tin roof talks
