

Over

Ty Segall

I wake up again and I panic when
I take the same things and I, I can't change them
I made a mistake and I made you cry
But when I was away I was only asking why

I want to start over, but who would I be?
All the mistakes I've made are why I am me

And I was afraid of what I would see
So I stayed away to focus in on me
But it was too late, that time had passed
I put the blame on others and I can't get you back

I want to start over, but who would I be?
All the mistakes I've made are why I am me

I want to start over, but who would I be?
All the mistakes I've made are why I am me
