

The Feels

Ty Segall

Now when I look into your eyes
I realize you're the same as me just wanted to be free
And when we look into the skies
We realize it just can't be, we'll never be free

And where are your friends? Where are they now?
And your family don't need you now
Oh, it's only a dream, yes, it's only a dream
Pick yourself up, walk down the street
Feel the freaks that you shall meet
They are your family now, they are your family now

And when I look into your eyes
I realize you're the same as me, you'll never be free
