

When The Gulls Turn To Ravens

Ty Segall

In the morning
I cannot see
All the bright lights
They're slowly darkening
Like the papers
I watch it burn
Smell the charcoal
Inside of everyone

Kill the water
Kill the sun
And the gulls turn to ravens

Now I wait
To grow cold
I See the water
Starts to mold
And those bright lights
They're flickering
I say goodbye
To my shadow and I sing

Kill the water
Kill the sun
When the gulls turn to ravens

In the darkness
We are one
When the gulls turn to ravens