

Box Of Lego

tyDi

You know I fight my own ego
No back downs
No hero
It's a battle that I can't win and it's fought with words that are paper thin
Stack them up and watch them burn, stack them up and watch them burn.
Together we are like Together we are alike

We're like a box of Lego
We can be whatever, but not meant to last forever
You build me up but break me down
You bring me up but break me down We're just complicated and I don't think that we're gonna make it

The walls that built this place, they crumble in disgrace Watching you perfectly replace
And paint her eyes upon my face
You think I can't see where you've been Outside this castle you keep me in The pieces don't fit right, no
Together we are alone

We're like a box of Lego
We can be whatever, but not meant to last forever.
You build me up but break me down
You bring me up but break me down
We're just complicated
and I don't think that we're gonna make it.

(Outside this castle you keep me in. The pieces don't fit right , no. Together we are alike.)

We're like a box of Lego
We can be whatever, but not meant to last forever
You build me up but break me down
You bring me up but break me down
We're just complicated
and I don't think that we're gonna make it
