

Redefined

tyDi

Falling like an angel
Who forgot how to fly
Like a stranger that I've seen too many nights
And all these layers
Building up over time
You peeled them back to let me out

Revealed the mystery
Rewrote my history
When I have half my truth
I found the rest in you
Got the ability
To take a broken dream
And with a four letter word
Redefined what it means

You only need one spark to start a fire
You only need one heart to save a life
It only takes one word to get inspired
Now when I think of love it's redefined

It was like water
Slipping right through my hands
Trying to hold on but Never could understand
That I was stronger
Than all the physical plans
Until you came along and show me how

Revealed the mystery
Rewrote my history
When I have half my truth
I found the rest in you
Got the ability
To take a broken dream
And with a four letter word
Redefined what it means

You only need one spark to start a fire
You only need one heart to save a life
It only takes one word to get inspired
Now when I think of love it's redefined

You only need one spark to start a fire
You only need one heart to save a life
It only takes one word to get inspired
Now when I think of love it's redefined