Tyga

It's so hard to look the other way
It's so hard to not pick up the phone, bang your line one time
and ask 'bout your day It's so hard to look the other way, tell me something that will push me away
Tell me something that will push me away, I took something for the pain, it never took it away, nah

It's only two and I took two today, already took two today
But the truth is I never wanted you to stay but you do what you want, yeah and I wanted it that way Pushing through the city in my four by four, by two, yeah, bare ly fitted through the drive-thru Wanna slide by you So hard not to tell you he a sucker
So hard to see you suffer, let you see for yourself Yeah, it's hard for me to trust ya
But I know this bust down Patek won't switch sides, yeah
I know this Lambo won't switch sides, yeah
I know my true fans won't switch sides
If I give my new bitch just a lil time, she'll be big time

And it'll so hard to look the other way But it's so hard to not pick up the phone, bang your line one t ime and ask 'bout your day It's so hard to look the other way, tell me something that will
push me away
Tell me something that will push me away, I took something for the pain, yeah
But it's still so hard to look the other So hard to not pick up the phone, bang your line one time and a sk 'bout your day, yeah So hard to look the other way, tell me something that will push
me away
Tell me something that will push me away, I took something for the pain, it never took it away, nah, nah

Now my new thing ain't you but it feels good 'cause it's new Don't have to check the 'gram to know your move Yeah, I need a Khaled, gon' pop me another one I need a Khaled, gon' find me another one (another one) Gon' buy me another one You could lie to the other one Tell me something that will push me away
You brought out the beast, I can't put it away Yeah, truth is I wanted you to stay
But the door's tryna close and my foot's in the way Push me away, tell 'em I was unconditional

Tell 'em how I strengthened your spiritual Tell 'em I know you like I invented you

That's why it's so hard to look the other way
It's so hard to not pick up the phone, bang your line one time
and ask 'bout your day
So hard to look the other way, tell me something that will push
me away
Tell me something that will push me away, I took something for the pain, it never took it away, nah, nah
