

Praying For A Miracle

Tygers of Pan Tang

Never thought that I would be a stranger knowing I've been down this road before Must have been a fool to think I'd change things ... only fools can be so sure
The light that shined so brightly now is fading, the magic that was there is gone for good If I had a chance to do things over I'm not sure my heart would say I could

I remember the day like it was yesterday
I can't erase it from my mind
There was nothing there for us both to share
I could see it in your eyes

All night just Praying for a Miracle
All this time well it took so long
All night just Praying for a Miracle
Putting right what we did wrong
I hope and pray a miracle comes my way

Searching deep inside to find the reason Abandoning all hope I lost my way Forever chasing shadows in the darkness ... forever lost for words to say
Never thought I'd find so many strangers following the footsteps to their souls
Why let ourselves become the ghost of ourselves and leave behind the precious ones

I remember the time when she was mine
I can't erase it from my mind
If there was something there for us both to share
I couldn't see it in her eyes

All night just Praying for a Miracle
All this time well it took so long
All night just Praying for a Miracle
Putting right what we did wrong
I hope and pray a miracle comes my way

Praying for a Miracle
What took so long, what took so long
Praying for a Miracle
What took so long, what took so long) ... where did we go wrong
I hope and pray, yes I hope and pray... a miracle comes my way
