

Worlds Apart

Tygers of Pan Tang

See him standing staring at the sunset
An empty shell of everything he used to be
A lonely man - Shattered dreams - Wanting to hide away
Feel his soul fighting with his demons
Lost in time feels like eternity
A troubled man praying for the day he fades away, fades away

All the lies, never ending
All the lies, condescending
Break the chains, free ourselves, change our destiny

The harder it gets the less we fall
All's not lost, can't you see we're worlds apart
The harder it gets tell me what can we do, the less we fall
Hope can vanish too soon, all's not lost
Can't you see we're worlds apart

See their faces passed against a window
Corrupting eyes of innocent children
They'll never know, how could they know, there's nowhere to hide
See the sun rise above the ocean
Feel the anger raging like a hurricane
A helpless man, dies inside watching our worlds collide, worlds collide

All the lies, never ending
All the lies, condescending
Break the chains, free ourselves.. change our destiny